GOOD BUSINESS

There are those who would no more go to their stores with patched pants than they would attend church with dirt behind their ears, who still use printed forms fit only for the waste basket.

Why a business man will drive a good car, smoke the best cigars, put on a bold front at his bank, and then shop for the cheapest, shoddiest printing, is beyond the understanding even of an organ-grinder.

One's business pride is as much exposed by his letterhead or printed statement as his character is revealed by his words or his personal appearance.

The poorest economy known to a going concern is "punk" printing, smeared all over with the evident fact that the job finally goes to the lowest bidder.—C.W.N.A. Bulletin.

Miss Doris Craig, of the Bank of Nova Scotia staff at Nanton, and her brother, Douglas Craig, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff at Claresholm, spent Christmas at Macleod with their parents, Sheriff and Mrs. K. G. Craig.

The Enterprise has a few copies of the prospectus covering steam engineering, coal mining and engineering mathematics, which may be had for the calling by anyone interested. These were received from Mr. Higgins, late instructor at the Calgary "tec." See prospectuses for further information. It is Mr. Higgins' intention to give practical lessons in surveying for those desiring mining instruction. The best actual practice with instruments will be given, and those having had previous experience will have a slight advantage. Notice of this will appear in The Enterprise at a future date.

The flourishing state of mining in Canada at the close of 1937, is a happy augury for the coming year. Long established producing areas are continuing to maintain their record rate of production and the younger areas, many of which contributed notably to the output in 1937, are responding satisfactorily to development. Markets for base metals are widening, and extensions are being made to a number of metallurgical plants. The demand for non-metallic minerals should increase as conditions in the construction and coal consuming industries continue to improve. Barring any unforeseen disturbing influences, therefore, Canada should achieve another new record in mineral production in 1938.—T. A. Crear, minister of mines, Ottawa.

The Review never was any great admirer of those who like to write a letter to the paper, and have it published under any other appellation but their own honest-to-goodness names; but when people give interviews to a Calgary daily paper under such appellations as tailors, housewife, printer, businessman, bond-dealer, confectioner, hotel manager, civil servant, etc., that is the limit. Such opinions on the addresses of any public man or issues are not worth the space it takes to publish them. Premier Aberhart has been rightly criticized for adopting such propaganda tactics over the air, and certainly his opponents should keep themselves free from the self-same criticism.—Drumheller Review.

The big dance pavilion at Water-ton Lakes was totally destroyed by fire of unknown origin at an early hour on Monday morning. The building was owned by Archie McLean, of Pincher Creek, and was erected quite a number of years ago at a cost of $20,000. It is claimed that no insurance was carried.

PETS INDOORS

Above—Tagl Sunlight pouring into the kitchen makes this as easy as an outdoor picture. Note the interesting rhythm of the faucet shadows. 1/25 second at f.8.3 lens opening. By the addition of flood lights a snapshot could be made of this subject at f.11 or with a box type camera with lens at largest opening. At right—What'll I write

HOW many Snapshot Guild members have really good pictures of the family pet—not just "oop shot" snapped hurriedly without much attention to idea or background, but pictures with expression and action that give a genuine key to the pet's character? Pictures like this are well worth all the planning and patience they require and indoors is a good place to take them because it is so much easier to associate the pet with a "home" background that identifies it as a member of the family.

Frequently humor can be obtained in these indoor pictures—a frolicsome kitten tangled up in a skein of yarn and looking baffled, or matching at the dribble of water from a faucet; a puppy barking excitedly at a rubber mouse or—as here—thoughtfully planning a bit of letter-writing. Pictures that present the animal in a definite mood or illuminate its character abound for the watchful photographer—the Scotty, like a little old man, his head cocked to one side and inquiry in his shaggy-browed eyes; the majestic Persian cat, dignified in repose, paws extended and chin sunk deep in the soft fur of his chest; the mournful-eyed bloodhound, the silken-coated colts with brown eyes sympathetic and thoughtful, the paddle-footed

CANADIAN FISH HASH

Chop from four to six slices of bacon and fry the pieces until crisp, then add the following mixture: Two cups of any Canadian cooked and flaked fish, two eggs, two slices of onion, finely minced, and one-half cup of fish or meat stock. Heat slowly, stirring meanwhile, brown and serve folded. Chopped parsley, minced green pepper or other like ingredients may be added for a change of flavor.

Canadian Fish and Shellfish are especially good foods because they are so easily digested and are rich in vitamins and health-giving mineral substances.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Norman Horning entertained her young friends at tea on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. C. J. Bundy gave a party at her home on Wednesday night for a number of young folk. Prizes at contests were won by Miss Marion Morrison, Miss Edith Murphy, Alvin Murphy and Alex. Costick. Among those present were Misses Clare Bundy, Dorothy Costick, Sylvia Murphy, Jennie Lemire, Lillian Porter, and Messrs. Jack Bundy, Gordon Swart, Ronald Morrison and Lloyd Morrison.

On Thursday night the Wilson hall was packed to capacity, when one of the best Christmas concerts ever staged here was held. Rev. Father Sullivan made the very capable chairman when the interesting programme was presented. Many fancy costumes were displayed by the performers, and all the children entered the spirit of the occasion in a right merry mood as they came on the stage and gave their respective numbers.

Jan. 6—Miss Clare Bundy has returned to Edmonton, where she is attending high school this year.

Jack Bundy has returned to Calgary to continue his studies at the "tec."

Miss Mary Whinnan, of Lundbreck, has returned to her studies at the Institute of Technology at Calgary.

Misses Edith and Sylvia Murphy gave a party at their home on January first for the young folk of the town.

The Ladies' Aid of the United church were entertained at their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. C. J. Bundy on Thursday afternoon of this week.

Word has been received from Bellevue of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Anderson on December 28th. Mrs. Anderson will be remembered as Miss Marjorie Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Bojeski, of Macleod, spent Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. Berenak, and family here, while Mr. and Mrs. Berenak and family paid a return visit, spending New Year's with their parents at Macleod. Miss Jennie Bojeski, who is attending high school here, paid a visit of a few days to her parents at Macleod during the Yuletide.

After residing in the Cowley district for a number of years, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wells have moved to the Cardston district, where they are engaged in farming.

On Tuesday night of this week Mrs. M. A. Murphy entertained the Home Helpers' Club at her home. At this meeting Mrs. R. Littleton, Mrs. H. C. Morrison and Mrs. A. J. Snyder were re-elected to fill the offices of president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer. After the meeting the gentlemen were invited, when a card party took place, five hundred being played. Luncheon was served by the hostess. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Archie Swart on Thursday evening, January 27th.

We are glad to report that Michael Elton is around and looking himself again, after an illness of a few weeks.

After a lapse of a good many years, Tom Willidge, of the Porcupine Hills district, is on an extended visit to his old home in England.

On New Year's Eve the Cowley Girls' Club staged a swell party in the Masonic hall, which was neatly decorated for the occasion. A hundred persons were present and report having had a most enjoyable time. While this party was in progress, some petty thieving was going on, when car tools, gloves and such like were stolen from cars parked in the street below and in the Cowley garage.

A local young lady received a fountain pen as a Christmas present. On her first attempt to use it, she found that the ink would not flow. An expert was brought in, who discovered that the pen was choked by an Aberhart dividend.

Our Feet on the Fender

STEPHEN LEACOCK says that people of other countries suppose Canadians to spend their winters huddled along the U.S. border, trying to warm their feet on the fender of the 49th parallel, while their backs shiver in the icy blasts from the North Pole. Snow and cold are thought to put a stop to our efforts for six months of the year.

OF COURSE farmers know how much work there is to do in winter. Anyone with some stock to tend, for instance, has a job 365 days of the year. Lumbering is most active in winter and mining suffers no winter slackening. Still, the criticism of Canada as a place of part-time employment has an element of truth in it.

ANY Canadian industry, therefore, which is particularly active during the winter is a boon to Canada. For over thirty-two years Dominion Textile Company has been operating plants for the manufacture of primary cotton textile goods in towns of the Province of Quebec. During all that time the average employment has been maintained at a fairly consistent year-round level. If there has been any season more active than another, it has been the winter season—when Canadians are popularly supposed to hibernate. And if there is one season less busy than another, it is summer.

DOMINION TEXTILE COMPANY can reasonably claim that it contributes towards year-round evening-up of Canadian production and employment. It acts as a counter-balance against seasonal unemployment.

TAXES BURDEN OIL INDUSTRY

In the roll of national industry the burden of taxation has become a heavy load, but nowhere more onerous than upon the oil industry and users of its products.

There are no less than 200 types of taxation imposed upon it. They are collected on every operation of the business, from setting up its equipment in the field, to selling gasoline and lubricating oil at the filling station. Every product and by-product from crude oil, from the moment it comes out of the ground and down through all the processes through which it becomes highly refined gasoline, fuel oil, and lubricants, is taxed.

Producers of crude oil and natural gas, for example, pay taxes on crude oil and natural gas as it is produced, there is a tax on oil withdrawn from storage, on sales of oil, and gas lands, and on top of all these types of taxes, there are severance taxes, production taxes, royalties, derrick taxes, and pollution taxes in a great many of the big fields, and well-drilling permit fees.

Bettors, of course, have to pay taxes on their refined products. Pipeline companies pay taxes on their pipe lines, and taxes on all the crude they transport.

One of the biggest accounting jobs the industry has is that of taking care of the taxes it has to pay the governments.

Costick, on behalf of the choir, presented Mrs. Upton with an aeroplane case as a recognition of the valued services rendered by her as leader. Mrs. Upton made suitable reply, thanking them for the beautiful gift and for their loyalty to her during the past year. The party broke up with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Price at Maple Leaf was destroyed by fire while they were attending a show. Everything a total loss, with but little insurance.

The cantata, entitled "The Christ Child," repeated by the church junior and senior choirs of over sixty voices, was much enjoyed on Sunday evening. A very large congregation was present. In the absence of Rev. Mr. Upton, the service was in charge of Mr. John Shevels.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
TABLE-TOP HUMORETTES

Breakfast! A simple, humorous idea, simply and neatly told. The spotlight is a two-inch hole in a piece of cardboard, held in front of an amateur floodlight bulb. Exposure 1/2, second at f16.

MOST amateur camera workers wait until they find a picture situation ready-made before they snap the shutter. Others have found that they do not have to wait—that they can often create a picture opportunity by selecting and arranging materials already at hand.

Still-life studies, of fruit, of flowers, of the play of light on textures and glassware, are all examples of this creative method and still-life experts done can possess extraordinary beauty. Still-lives, however, require a keen sense of pictorial composition, judgment in lighting and a willingness to arrange and rearrange until everything is to the exact right.

"Table-top" photography permits more latitude, particularly when the central idea is humorous. Here the emphasis is on telling a story, rather than developing an ideal arrangement of lights and shadows and textures. In consequence, the "table-top" worker can limit his labor to the story-telling essentials, and let supplementary considerations go.

Small toys, conical in themselves, are easy subjects to work with. Dolls are also convenient to use. The clever worker can construct funny figures from vegetables—for example, a carrot appropriately dressed and equipped with tiny wire spectacles can become a very presentable old lady. Cotton-and-wire pipe cleaners can be bent and combined into interesting action pictures—an instance would be adagio dancers on a stage. Good characters can also be made of modelling wax—and often the cruder the modelling the funnier the effect.

Scene materials, when needed, are easy to get. Fluffy cotton makes excellent snow; small twigs make good trees; light brown sugar serves nicely for sand and a piece of glass laid over a dark cloth will do for water. Doll furniture is useful in realistic indoor sets.

Some amateurs build elaborate miniature stage settings for their "table-top" just as if they were producing a professional motion picture. This can be fascinating work and often well worth while. But it is not imperative and can be avoided simply by selecting a story idea that does not demand realistic background.

"Table-topping" requires that the photographer work fairly close up to his subject. He can do this in two ways: either by using a portrait attachment over the lens of his camera or by using a camera with double-extension bellows. Cameras of the latter type will allow him to photograph small objects in their actual size and they usually have groundglass backs which help in focusing and arranging the picture. When a subject shows up too small on a negative, it is good practice to have it enlarged, with surplus margin marked out.

Try "table-topping." You'll like it.

John van Guilder.

WHAT'S IN A FORD?

"The modern low-priced automobile built for less per pound than the cheaper cuts of meat, yet it contains materials which before the advent of the motor car were sometimes worth more than gold," R. H. McCarroll, Ford Motor Company engineer, stated in a recent Detroit address. "Development of new materials," he said, "has made possible a different and more economical method of fabrication, resulting in a lighter, less expensive part, which will, at the same time, give better service."

A Ford V-8 Tudor, the engineer says, contains 1,919 pounds of steel, 357 pounds of cast grey iron, 70 of rubber, 89 of cotton, 51 of glass, 34 of copper, 31.5 of lead, 14.5 of zinc, 14.5 of manganese, 10.6 of aluminum, 4 of tin, 3.5 of wool and mohair, 2.8 of chromium, 1.5 pounds of antimony, 0.8 pound of nickel, 0.7 pound of cadmium, and lesser quantities of tungsten, vanadium, molybdenum, titanium, columbium, cobalt and other materials.

$17,000,000 SAVING SEEN
IN EGG-TESTING MACHINE

Auburn, Ala., Dec. 31.—The Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station announced today perfection of a testing machine which will tell whether an egg will produce a chick. Dr. M. J. Funchess, director, said the machine will "tell" within 15 hours whether a hen egg is fertile and said it has a potential value of $17,000,000 to American poultrymen.

During a normal hatching season in the United States more than 200,000,000 infertile eggs are placed in incubators and lost annually, he said. "Our work, together with that in other states, indicates that the total hatch in the country can be increased by 10 to 15 per cent by the elimination of infertile eggs. At the same time it would save yearly about 16,700,000 dozen eggs for eating purposes," he said.

Speaking of the business outlook for 1938, W. E. Drynan, president and general manager of the Canadian Cannery Ltd., remarked that "The governments of Canada can do a lot to stabilize conditions if they use good judgment with their trade treaties, tariffs, taxation, and keep away from freak legislation." He was no doubt thinking of Alberta when concluding his statement.

U. S. NEW DEAL HURLS DEFIANCE AT 'BIG BUSINESS'

Washington. — Interior Secretary Harold Ickes, continuing the Roosevelt administration's attack upon "big business," asserted that the power of concentrated wealth "must be compelled to conform to our laws" at the coming session of congress.

An "irreconcilable conflict" between "the power of money and the power of the democratic instinct" has reached such an intensity in recent months, he said, that it is "clear that it must be fought through to a finish—until plutocracy, or democracy—until America's 60 families, or America's 120,000,000 people—win."

His broadcast speech was the third assault upon "big business" to come from within the new deal circle within a week. Two such addresses were delivered previously by Robert H. Jackson, assistant attorney-general. All are regarded as a prelude to a drive for anti-monopoly legislation at the session of congress opening Jan. 4.

Like Jackson, Ickes accused concentrated economic power of going on a strike against the administration, or threatening to do so, unless government restraints upon business are removed. Referring throughout to capital as "America's 60 families," he said:

"To the 120,000,000 people of the United States, they have made the threat that unless they are free to speculate without regulations to protect the people's money; unless they are free to accumulate through legal tricks by means of corporations without paying their share of taxes; unless they are free to dominate the rest of us without restrictions on their financial or economic power; unless they are once more free to do all these things, then the United States is to have its first general anti-trust strike—not of labor—not of the American people—but of the 60 families and of the capital created by the whole American people, of which the 60 families have obtained control."

He called attention to a recent labor board decision against Henry Ford. He said the board "charges Henry Ford, the benefactor, with what amounts to a refusal to comply with a duly enacted statute." Coupling the automobile magnate with Thomas Girdler, of "Little Steel," and James H. Rand, Jr., of Remington-Rand, the secretary called upon business to purge itself of "its Fords, its Girdlers and its Rands," before "it presumes to tell the people what they should, or should not, do about troubles caused by labor laws."

Asserting that the "corporations" brought on the depression which began in 1930, he said the people called upon the government to intervene and the latter was successful in restoring prosperity.

"And last night," he continued, "government had the business of the country turning over so well that it thought it could safely head the pleas of private enterprise to government to abandon the economic initiative."

Aid For Injured

Ontario's Roadside Samaritans Have Been Organized

Toronto.—Fame of Ontario's roadside Samaritans organized to give first aid to injured motorists, has spread around the world and their example is being followed in British Columbia, Quebec and nearly half of the United States. In addition the plan may be adopted next year in Nova Scotia, New Zealand and India. The garage workers and farmers who took first aid training during the past five years in order to qualify the voluntary Samaritans in Ontario's rural areas, were credited to-day with having saved three lives on one provincial highway during the first 10 months of this year.

Organized at nine garages 12 to 15 miles apart on the Ontario highway between Windsor and the Quebec border, the voluntary workers refuse payment but are ready 24 hours a day to aid the injured. Between January 1 and October 31 they gave medical treatment to 125 accident cases, 90 per cent. of whom were "serious emergency cases."

Killed In Mine

Nanaimo, B.C.—Tudor Sainsbury, 40-year-old miner, was killed at Northfield mine near here. Caught under a fall of coal, he was suffocated.

Fishing Agreement

Moscow.—An accord prolonging the Soviet-Japanese fishing agreement for one year was signed Dec. 29. The previous accord expired on Dec. 21.

No Option Taken

Report Denied That Britain Had Bargained For Canadian Wheat Crop

London.—The ministry for defence co-ordination and the Board of Trade denied published reports they had negotiated an option for Great Britain on the entire Canadian wheat crop to ensure Britain's food supply in time of war.

The offices of Vincent Massey, high commissioner for Canada, and in the Canadian Wheat Board reported they were unaware of any such transaction between the British and Canadian governments.

London.—The Daily Herald (Labor) stated the United Kingdom had engineered an option on the entire Canadian crop to ensure part of the British food supply in time of emergency.

The Herald said the option had been engineered by the Board of Trade and Sir Thomas Inskip, minister of defence co-ordination. It added that Whitehall expected the Canadian Wheat Board had been in secret negotiation on the matter for some months.

The Herald said that should the option ever have to be taken up it would cost Great Britain about 100,000,000 ($500,000,000) together with 55,000,000 which it said was the price of the option.

The newspaper's article continued: "This is part of a great scheme for importing and storing emergency supplies."

"Sir Thomas Inskip is working out details with the food (defence plans) department of the Board of Trade and the air raids precautions department."

The paper said unused ports of the south and west coasts of England, and in Scotland, will become receiving centres; reserves of tinned food, bulk supplies of edible fats are to be built up and "provisions for adequate granary accommodations is being worked out also."

"Storage will have to be in areas inaccessible to air attack since apart from direct bomb hits, wheat is easily contaminated by poison gas," the paper concluded.

Ship War Material

United States Report Shows Heavy Exports For 1937

Washington.—Foreign trade experts of the commerce department said that "enormous" exports of war materials were keeping United States sales abroad at a high level and providing a cushion for declining business at home.

At the same time, they estimated that figures for 1937 would show that American firms and individuals sold abroad at least $200,000,000 more in commodities and manufactures than they purchased in other lands.

This excess of exports, long termed a "favorable" balance of trade, would represent a gain of some $165,000,000 over 1936, but otherwise would be the smallest "favorable" balance in the last six years.

Asked for an opinion of the year's foreign trade developments, one department expert said: "It's been a great year for preparation for war."

He added exports of iron and steel, especially scrap, copper and aircraft "have been enormous and sales of gasoline have been 'keeping up pretty well, too.'"

Motor-Vessel Battles Sea

One Man Lost Before Boat Reached Victoria Harbor

Victoria.—Captain S. Erickson piloted his 1,042-ton south sea freighter Beulah into Victoria's outer harbor, victor of a 36-hour battle against the sea which took the life of one of his crew and injured another.

The little motor-vessel, which came north for a cargo of lumber, salmon and general freight while the copra season was at a standstill, developed trouble off Carmanah Point at the southern tip of Vancouver Island on her outward voyage.

During the night, while the converted barquentine dragged two anchors and just missed pounding herself to pieces on sharp rocks, First Officer Tryhane Braggs was washed overboard while the crew looked on, helpless. Boatwain Frank Mukulasi was hurt.

Captain Erickson's distress call was answered by the United States coastguard cutter Receiving and Samuel H. Ingram. The Pacific Salvage Company tugboat Salvage King also was sent from Victoria.

Employment Shows Drop

Ottawa.—Industrial employment in Canada dropped by 34,444 persons during November, exceeding the average for the period in the last 15 years although being smaller than in 1929 and 1930, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported.

Murder Syndicate

French Authorities Check Heavy Correspondence Seized At Villa

Versailles, France.—After examining voluminous correspondence seized in the Villa of Eugene Weidmann, German immigrant deported from Saskatchewan, police said they might send an agent across the Atlantic to check on possible connections of the "murder-for-profit" syndicate.

Nearly 500 letters were found in the villa, many written in English and coming from addresses in Canada and the United States.

A majority were from women in various countries with whom Weidmann got in contact through advertisements.

BRITAIN REJECTS JAPAN'S REPLY ON GUNBOAT ATTACK

London.—The British government rejects the Japanese army's version of the attack on the British gunboat Ladybird. This version is considered here unacceptable as it is not in accordance with the British government's own report of the incident.

The foreign office received a 1,200-word note of apologies from the Japanese government. The note is now being distributed to members of the cabinet for consideration.

The Japanese army version which was not officially communicated to the British government, asserted that H.M.S. Ladybird, with other British vessels on the Yangtze, was fired upon by the Japanese because they appeared to be hiding behind black smoke and landing men in launches. Unofficially this version was regarded here as for Japanese domestic consumption only.

Shanghai.—Japanese army claimed "in principle" the right to extend provisions of its military law into Shanghai's international settlement and French concessions, where thousands of Britons and other foreigners make their homes.

The Japanese army spokesman announced the claim, under which troops could enter foreign areas still outside Japanese control and arrest and try all persons suspected of crimes against Nippon's armed forces.

Chinese troops bitterly contested Japanese invasion into two of the nation's richest provinces—Shanghai and Chekiang. The invaders already have raised the rising sun flag over most of northern China, the rich Lower Yangtze valley and a handful of China's wealthiest cities.

Japanese troops pushing southward from Tientsin, conquered Shanghai capital, attacked Tainan, 30 miles from Tientsin on the road to Shanghai. It was apparent that Japanese intended to take over and operate railway lines connecting Peking, Tientsin and Shanghai.

Chinese, apparently preparing to abandon the threatened Shanghai port of Tientsin, began a campaign of destruction, blowing up all telegraph cable and radio terminals.

A British cruiser and two United States warships were lying close inshore ready to take out British and Americans if necessary. Four British coastal ships departed for Shanghai, jammed with foreigners of various nationalities and hundreds of Chinese.

PURGE VICTIM

The last purge in the Soviet Union resulted in execution of eight prominent officials, one of them Avel Yenukidze, ambassador to Turkey, and former secretary of the Central Communist committee. Yenukidze was a close personal friend of Dictator Josef Stalin until his arrest on charges of "terroristic activities and systematic espionage" for an unnamed foreign nation.

Paris Strike Ends

Threat To Mobilize Workers Seem To Have Been Effective

Paris.—Labor leaders and cabinet ministers announced strikes of 120,000 Paris workers had been called off.

The Paris municipal council, acting through Interior Minister Mari Dornay, agreed to give the workers a living allowance at a compromise figure between their demands and the previous council offer.

Paul Morel, secretary of the Public Services Workers Union, said the strikers would go back to work, ending the tie-up of Paris transportation, gas, light, and water services that had threatened more serious complications.

The agreement was reached in the face of a government threat to mobilize all workers and force them to return to work as soldiers. Most strikers are reconverts in the French army.

The compromise promised workers living allowances of 70 francs ($2.31) monthly to meet the rising cost of living instead of the 100-franc allowance strikers asked. Previously the municipal council had offered monthly allowances of 50 francs.

A conference of union leaders with Dornay, Finance Minister Georges Bonnet and other government leaders resulted in the compromise.

Foreign Language Programs

B.R.C. Making Effort To Offset Anti-British Propaganda

London.—The first of foreign language programs planned as an antidote to anti-British propaganda was broadcast by the B.R.C. January 3 from 6 to 8:15 p.m.

The broadcast was in the Arab tongue, with a news review following introductory speeches by Prince Seif al Islam Hussein, son of the Imam of Yemen; the Egyptian chargé d'affaires here; the minister of Saudi Arabia and Iraq; and Sir Bernard Reilly, governor of Aden.

Daily programs will be broadcast thereafter during the same period.

Will Return To Cuba

Machado Says His Personal Happiness Demands That He Die There

New York.—Gerardo Machado, Cuban president who fled for his life in the summer uprising of 1933, said he will one day return to Cuba because his personal happiness demands he die there.

"I intend to follow the advice of my physician, and within 20 days shall go to Bermuda, where the climate is warm and I have good friends," Machado said in a prepared statement, handed to reporters who he received in the Murray Hill hospital.

Machado, who speaks no English, said through an interpreter he was "feeling better but not too strong."

For more than four years the former "iron man" dictator of Cuba had fled from country to country to escape extradition proceedings instituted by the government which succeeded his.

NEW STATUS FOR IRELAND HAILED AS IMPORTANT STEP

Dublin.—Dubliners apathetically saw Constitution Day inaugurated by the government, amid suggestions the opposition had virtually boycotted the new document.

Lavish military and religious ceremonies, including a 21-gun salute fired from the grounds of the Royal hospital at Kilmainham, celebrated the fact that at midnight the former Irish Free State, known as Eire in Gaelic and Ireland in English.

Eamon de Valera, who under the constitution became taoiseach (prime minister) motored with his cabinet from the government buildings to the cathedral to attend solemn votive mass.

But the diplomatic corps and leaders of the opposition parties did not attend, giving rise to much comment. A suggestion was heard that the action of William T. Cosgrave, Eire's Gael leader, and William Norton, Labor leader, in sending only back-benchers to the church services was tantamount to a boycott.

Thousands of congratulatory cables reached Mr. De Valera from all parts of the world, lauding the constitution as an important historical step.

The prime minister broadcast to "all Irishmen" a hope they would work together for a united, greater Ireland.

The cabinet drove to the cathedral accompanied by an escort of cavalry, smartly uniformed in blue.

At the same time a Protestant service was held at St. Patrick's cathedral; Jewish services and Quaker prayers drew large congregations.

It was "business as usual" for the general public as the day was not a public holiday; government offices, however, were closed. Queues formed at the general postoffice to buy special commemorative stamps issued for the occasion.

Dublin newspapers, with the exception of The Irish Independent, bestowed their blessings on the new order and gave the constitution big displays.

The Independent described it as a "Fainta Fail party measure." "The new constitution," it said, "has imposed upon the public the office of president with powers which the titular head of a democratic state should not have."

With a black flag waving before their headquarters to signify disapproval of the constitution, Sinn Féin republicans planned a protest demonstration against "the empire shackles about the Irish nation."

The old name of Ireland, came back officially as the new constitution took effect, putting an end to the 15-year-old Irish Free State. The nation henceforth will be known here as Ireland in English and Eire in Gaelic.

Northern Ireland remained determined to have no part in the constitution. There was talk of changing its name to emphasize this.

The English press generally took an aloof view but The Manchester Guardian suggested the time might be ripe for removing the sore spot caused by maintenance of British naval stations in Ireland.

Several English papers chided Mr. De Valera on his new title, Taoiseach, by comparing it to "Der Fuehrer" and "Il Duce."

May Import Grain

Capetown.—South Africa, facing the prospect of a serious wheat shortage, may have to import grain to supplement an expected abnormal crop. The government has imposed an embargo on exports of maize.

CHINESE BLOW UP MILLS AND OTHER ENEMY PROPERTY

Shanghai.—Destruction of Japan's valuable interests in Shanghai province continued as Chinese worked with torch and dynamite to wreck mills and other properties before Japanese armies could reach Tientsin.

From that Shanghai port an exodus of foreigners was in progress. Fearing disorders and possible spread of destruction to non-Japanese property, a foreign vigilante corps was organized.

Japanese seizure of Tientsin was considered inevitable, although latest military reports indicated no Japanese land forces were nearer than 100 miles.

Americans reaching Shanghai from Tientsin described conditions in interior Shanghai as chaotic.

The army of General Yu Hsueh-Chung, previously garrisoning Tientsin, had withdrawn rapidly to the southwest to escape the Japanese cordon and was reported to have reached the vicinity of Tientsin, the sacred mountain south of Tientsin. A battle was reported in progress among Tientsin's temple-crowded foothills.

Only about 1,000 Chinese troops were left in Tientsin for the work of destruction, which had been carried to Japanese factories, homes and shops as far as 20 miles west of Tientsin. In the city and along its waterfront the burning and blasting of cotton and silk mills, warehouses and docks went on furiously. Columns of smoke and flame hung over the port. The Japanese power plant which served much of the city was destroyed.

Chinese soldiers blew up Tientsin's telegraph, cable and radio offices. They touched off land mines under a Japanese brewery, Japanese warehouses, and a dye factory. There were heavy explosions along the waterfront and before dawn, flames shot skyward from waterfront buildings.

Epidemic Of Measles

Claimed 26 Lives At Indian Settlement In North

Edmonton.—An epidemic of measles that claimed 26 lives within a few weeks in an Indian settlement near Fond du Lac, 400 miles northwest of Prince Albert in northern Saskatchewan, was checked by the quick action of Dr. P. W. Head, Indian agent at Chipewyan, pilot Arthur Sawie of Canadian Airways reported on his arrival here.

Sawie said Dr. Head heard of the epidemic only a few days before Christmas. He immediately chartered the aeroplane Sawie was piloting, and flew to the scene. Administration of serum brought a quick end to the epidemic, and Dr. Head was able to return to Chipewyan Christmas eve.

Severity of the sudden scourge probably was explained by the fact that the settlement may have been untouched by the disease, then when the epidemic introduced resistance of young and old in the Indian settlement was very low, in the opinion of Dr. G. M. Little, medical health officer in Edmonton.

Efforts Are Successful

U.S. Government Believes Diamond Smuggling Ring Is Broken

New York.—Diamonds—$13,000,000 worth—beautiful, sparkling icy gems.

Week after week for seven years gigantic liners nosed into New York piers carrying the diamonds, hidden in the false bottoms of suitcases.

After two years of tireless sleuthing that led all over Europe, the government moved to cut off the last rivulets of that glittering stream.

A huge liner moved toward New York recently, but this time it carried two men and a woman the government charges were among the last fugitive cops in an international smuggling ring.

The travellers who will arrive in the Bremerhaven are Nat. Lukin, Gustav Firstenberg, and Solomon Halper, three of 55 men and women indicted in June, 30 of whom were subsequently convicted. Twenty-five defendants remained fugitives, safe from extradition in Europe.

Had No Opposition

Webwood, Ont.—Barbara Hanley, Canada's first and only woman mayor, has started her third term as head of this northern Ontario town. The nomination meeting brought no opposition to Mrs. Hanley and the clerk declared her elected by acclamation.

DELBOS SOUNDS OUT KING CAROL

History may have been in the making when this picture was taken, since it was during the recent visit of Yvon Delbos, French Foreign Minister, to Roumania, to confer with King Carol on Germany's demands for colonies or for more room to expand in Europe.

Ask Bill Duncan about his new recipe for making soup. The way we understand it is: Into a gallon of spring water place the wishbone of a four-pound Elk River trout, boil for seventeen hours, then serve with pepper and salt to taste. It is positively guaranteed to leave no after effects.

There is no doubt that if Mr. Aberhart would decide to treat all newspaper men in Alberta to the same extent he and his government are handing it out to a Mr. Allnut, Alberta papers would not be dealing with our government quite so harshly. Aberhart has never offered the Alberta press a square deal.

The process of rearranging the financial position of the city of Fernie, under a commissioner for several years, has taken another step, when the British Columbia government authorized cancellation of $148,500 of the city's debentures which have been purchased.
